In instances where fewer than three elected members of the Executive Committee hold the necessary rank, the Executive Committee will appoint to the advisory committee additional faculty at the necessary rank, for a total of three. 6. Act as a Faculty Appeals Committee, to assist and advise the Dean in the event of any grievance procedures which might arise in the School.

Preamble:
The School desires to resolve matters of dispute within the school. The purpose of the Internal Procedure for Resolution of disputes is to provide members of the faculty with a framework for collegial resolution of such disputes. These procedures do not abrogate the right of any individual to bring matters of concern either to the full faculty or appropriate campus-wide committees (e.g., Faculty Advisory Committee, Professional Advisory Committee, or Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Office).

Procedure:
Any member of the faculty may present a question, suggestion, or grievance about any school-related issue affecting that individual. Under normal circumstances, it would be expected that the issue will have been discussed directly by all parties concerned before being brought to the executive committee. If no satisfactory resolution is reached, the faculty member may bring a formal grievance before the executive committee. If the grievant is a member of the executive committee, the other members of the committee will determine a replacement for purposes of hearing the grievance. The grievance should be in writing and addressed to the vice-chair of the committee. Within 60 days of receipt of such a grievance, the committee will meet in conference with the grievant(s) and other parties involved and will review appropriate documentation. The committee will, within the next 30 days, deliver a written recommendation to the grievant(s) and administrator. The response of the administrator to any findings will be communicated within 30 days to the grievant(s) and to the executive committee. [Extension of time limits can be negotiated with agreement of both parties.]
7. Act on behalf as interim in the name of the Faculty in an emergency situation, such action to be reported to the Faculty at the next regular meeting.

3. Minutes will be kept by either a) the Dean's secretary, or b) members of the Committee on a rotating basis, and will be made available to the Faculty.

4. In the event of a tie vote among the elected members of the Executive Committee, the Associate Deans will be invited to vote. If the tie persists, the Dean will cast the deciding vote.

VII. Other Committees

Committees, both standing and special, are established to perform specific tasks on behalf of the Faculty. Although election of Faculty to each committee may be made by the majority of voting members present and responding to a motion to elect the slate as submitted by the Dean, any Faculty member eligible to vote may place her/his name, or the name of another voting Faculty member, with the approval of that Faculty member, in nomination for a specific committee. If this nomination results in a greater number of nominees than positions on the committee, a vote by paper ballot will be held. Those receiving the greater number of votes shall be elected to the committee. In case of ties, the current Executive Committee will vote to break the tie. The Dean shall convey to each committee any charges given the committee by the Faculty. The chairperson of the committee is responsible for calling the first meeting.
